

THE GREATEST MONUMENT.

Much has been said in the State press about the erection of the proposed monument to the women of the Confederacy. The Free Democrat suggested last fall that the money expended on a new dormitory on the grounds of the Woman's College that would enable much of our charming girls to get an education, would be a more fitting tribute to the noble work and sacrifice of our mothers than a sumptuous marble shaft.

The Pennsylvanian Journal with this suggestive:

The Journal asks pardon making a suggestion which one has not been palmed off, but feeling an intense interest in the monument which is to be erected to the Florida Women of the Confederacy, the thought comes to us that something other than a marble shaft might be a better monument to those noble women whose deeds of valor, bravery and self-sacrifice were no less than those of the men of the Confederacy.

If these good women whose memory the monument is to perpetuate could express a desire The Journal feels sure that they would with one accord approve of the suggestion that The Journal humbly offers to those in charge of soliciting funds and who have the selection of the style of monument. Instead of a marble or bronze slab or statue, would not a hospital for suffering from tuberculosis be vastly more benefit? And would not an institution of this character be in thorough accord with the self-sacrificing nature of the good women of those days who cared for the afflicted. Would not an institution which would restore health and happiness to sick people live always and the benefited ones live to bless the memory of Florida's noblest creatures?

It is proposed that the monument shall cost ten thousand dollars, and if this amount were expended for a building there would be hundreds of others who would be eager to contribute funds for the equipment. There are dozens of land owners in the State who would contribute ten, twenty or forty acres for an institution of this character, and altogether The Journal feels that instead of a monument costing ten thousand dollars an institution costing fifty thousand dollars could easily be provided and the funds for its maintenance would be forthcoming without worry on the part of the trustees.

There is now a geriatricum for caring for infirm old patients in Florida, and for older invalids such patients, comfortable and healthful surroundings and kind treatment are the things that heel this class of sufferers, and The Journal feels that life memorial in the form of an institution of this character would stand as a monument to the Confederate Women of Florida it would be fitting and proper.

Without wishing to trespass on forbidden grounds The Journal makes this suggestion because it believes that the best that can be given to the memory of Florida's women is something that will be of benefit to suffering hu-

EXCITEMENT IS RAPIDLY SPREADING.

New Root Juice Edition Apparently Creating the Same Interest and Enthusiasm Here That It Has Elsewhere.

If one can judge by the words that are almost continually swarming the drug stores to investigate and purchase a supply of the new Root Juice medicine which for the past few weeks has been creating a sensation in all parts of the State, our home people are fast becoming as enthusiastic over it as those of other places in which it has been introduced.

So many reports of the most astonishing cures effected by Root Juice have been published, and so much has been said of the excitement the medicine has created in other cities, it is not strange that local doctors from indigestion, belching, pain, or seas, loss of appetite, nervousness, hiccups, weak kidneys, sleeplessness, tired, worn-out feeling and other similar ailments for which it is recommended, should be anxious to follow the examples of those who claim to have been almost miraculously cured by its use.

At the drug stores it is said that the sale of Root Juice has far exceeded all expectations, and although there is still a good stock on hand some fear is entertained that there will not be enough to supply the constantly growing demand, for it is said that the main laboratories at Fort Wayne, Ind., are working to their fullest capacity and are still far behind on their orders.

Good reports are still coming in from those who have purchased the medicine and stories of some truly startling results right here in town can be heard every day.

The medicine can now be had at any good drug store or can be obtained by writing to the Root Juice Laboratories at Fort Wayne, Ind. Large bottles holding nearly a pint cost only one dollar.

Another Case of Big Fire.

Now a bank of startlings set fire to a small town in Wurtemberg is told in the German Illustrated News. The town is visited by lightning, and on average there was a series of eruptions, most of the trees blew out and the people ran out of their houses, some of which were burned to the ground. It was more than twelve feet high and the buildings were all destroyed. It happened that a hawk had been shot down and the people ran out of their houses, some of which were burned to the ground.
